Machinery Ind. Co., Ltd.

The Wang-Ji Machinery Ind. Co., established in 2003 in the southern Taiwan city of Tainan, focuses on the development and production of pretensioned spun concrete pile molds, sheet molds, sheet pile molds, power pole molds, polyester resin concrete pipe molds, and cement-related molds.

Wang-Ji is recognized by professionals in Taiwan as a booming supplier of these products, and more than 90% of its more than US$2 million in annual revenues comes from sales to Taiwanese customers, including such big names as the Hwan Tai Cement Products Co. and Tsen Lung Cement Products Co.

The firm's steel molds, mainly for use in precast construction for bridges, tunnels, harbors, box culverts, sewerage culverts (including resin pipes and resin U-type ditches), wave energy dissipating concrete blocks, and foundation engineering for skyscrapers, have established a high reputation in the civil engineering industry. The company has also taken the lead in manufacturing polyester resin concrete pipe molds for sewerage, offering a polished appearance, high precision, and tight joints.

Rock-solid customer services and a one-year warranty on new molds back up the quality of Wang-Ji's products. Constant innovation and R&D, coupled with over three decades of experience in precast steel molding, are the main elements of the firm's current achievements.

Thanks to a strong commitment to innovation and R&D, Wang-Ji's molds feature high precision, superior seal and joint tightness, polished surfaces, and fast strip down and assembly to maximize product output, all serving to bolster the competitiveness of their buyers. Deep experience in steel molds for precast concrete has helped the company to win a large number of international patents.

Wang-Ji aims to create mutually beneficial partnerships and welcomes personalized orders from its customers. In addition to the products listed above, it also provides CNC lathing services for large-diameter metalwork.
