Efficient, integrated in-house production complying with ISO-9001: 2008 standards is Chuan Yi's main competitive advantage. Technologically supported by its parent company and equipped with state-of-the-art manufacturing facilities, the company is able to handle the entire production process from raw material preparation to extrusion, processing, packaging, and shipping, ensuring consistent quality and production efficiency.

Ample production capacity also underpins Chuan Yi's presence in the line. The company claims that it now can produce 100,000 units of hoses with either standard or customized specifications per month, along with 50,000 units of (U.S.-patented) trigger nozzles and 50,000 units (Taiwan-patented) air blow guns.
