

Nal Hon Industrial Co., Ltd.

Personal protective equipment parts including scaffold hooks, aluminum hooks, buckles, etc.

Founded in 1981, Nal Hon Industrial Co., Ltd. specializes in manufacturing hardware parts for personal protective equipment, including snap and swivel snap hooks, aluminum scaffold safety, eye, and parachute hooks, carabiners, locking carabiners, auto-repair tools, buckles, cam buckles, hoof nippers, and belt rings, among others. The company has been recognized as a highly reliable supplier backed by over 35 years' experience.

Using an ISO 9001:2008-certified production process, Nal Hon turns out safety products of consistent quality that are CE and ANSI approved. The materials used in their production are directly purchased from Taiwan-based China Steel, and the products are known internationally for their appealing appearance, lightweight design, user-friendliness, and made-in-Taiwan quality.

As part of its commitment to supplying only the finest of hardware parts for personal protective equipment, the company gives top priority to safety while focusing on innovation and quality. To assure the safety of customers, all of the firm's products have to pass full-scale safety tests.

Backed by its excellent R&D team, the company's provision of unique, highly stable, and top-quality products at competitive prices has helped it build a solid reputation in the field. It welcomes custom, OEM, and ODM orders as well as joint product development projects.
