

J-King International Corporation

Roller chains, conveyor gravity rollers, overhead chains, UN series universal chains, apron chains, forging parts, scraper chains

J-King International Corp. has specialized in power transmission products ever since its establishment way back in 1963, making it one of Taiwan's most experienced suppliers in its line.

The company's current product portfolio encompasses a wide spectrum of power transmission products and components including overhead chains, ball transfers, universal chains, universal trolley conveyor systems, mesh belts, power and free conveyor systems, apron chains, auto lubricators, forging parts, free flow chains, torque limiters, silicon controlled rectifier (SCR) motors and reducers, sprockets, scraper chains, rollers and accessories, dipping lines, tracks, trolleys, take-up units, conveyors, caterpillar drives, metal belts, hand molds, and glove-making machines. Some of the products are marketed globally under the firm's famous "JUKYO" brand.

J-King's competitive advantage is based on a time-tested manufacturing capability that can satisfy clients with customized products. This advantage is the result of half a century of dedication, as well as a full complement of sophisticated production facilities including a metal stamping, gravity roller, and conveyor chain assembly plant; a wire and metal conveyor belt fabrication plant; a drop forging and continuous heat treatment plant; an electrical motor transmission plant; and a sprocket, gear reducer, marine engine, and heat exchanger plant.

Well recognized for their excellent quality and on-time delivery, the company's products are much sought-after by professional buyers worldwide. A quick response to buyer inquiries is also among J-King's strong attractions as a reliable business partner.
