

Jo Long Machine Industrial Co., Ltd.

Grease pumps, oil pumps, oil reservoirs, garage equipment for cars and motorcycles

Jo Long Machine Industrial Co. has been making garage equipment and lubrication and maintenance tools for automobiles and motorcycles ever since it was established in 1976. Today, the company is known around the world as a reputable supplier in its line.

The company claims that consummate production capability is the formula for its success, which is backed up by a full line of manufacturing and quality inspection facilities including CNC lathes, vertical machining centers, drilling machines, hydraulic machines, and image analyzers.

Persistent R&D efforts have also helped the company build a positive global profile. Every year its skilled R&D staff develops a number of new products that have been improved in line with market trends toward safer, more convenient, and more practical repair and maintenance tools that truly satisfy end-users and help customers achieve bigger sales gains.

The company's product line encompasses dismantling tools for shock absorbers, air operated grease pumps and oil pumps, hand operated grease pumps and oil pumps, waste oil reservoirs, air compressor vacuum oil changers, and manual hydraulic presses. Many of the products have been patented and certificated by the CE Mark, attesting to their excellent quality and functionality.

Jo Long has exported its products to the U.S., Japan, Australia, and the advanced countries of Europe, and enjoys good reputation in the Middle East and Southeast Asia. It has been awarded several times for its achievements in exploring overseas markets and for its innovations, adding luster to its reputation as a world-caliber, trustworthy manufacturer.
