Ye I Machinery Factory Co., Ltd. has worked with plastic extrusion machines and related equipment for over a half of century since its founding in 1960.

For decades, the veteran manufacturer has consistently invested large amounts of resources in R&D and talent cultivation, sharpening its competitive edge with industry-leading technologies and an R&D department staffed with experts skilled in machinery, control systems, and materials processing.

To adapt to the growing trend toward eco-protection, the company has beefed up its plastic recycling machines with a combination of shredders, extruders, and pelletizers for handling a wide range of plastics, as well as hydraulic cylinder type screen changers that allow screens to be changed without having to shut down the machines.

In addition, ever its establishment, Ye I has continuously improved its quality standards and carried out total quality control measurement from incoming material inspection and in-process checking through pre-delivery inspection, with each worker dedicated to QC. These efforts have been well rewarded, and the company has won ISO 9001:2000 and CE Mark certification.

Ye I's product mix encompasses PP/HDPE/LLDPE/LDPE mono-layer and multi-layers tubular film blown machines, all kinds of plastic recycling machines, PVC pipe, corrugated board machines, PP/HDPE woven sack making machines, PP/Nylon yarn making machines, casting PP/PE film making machines, PMMA/PS/ABS/PC/PP/PE sheeting machines, and a variety of turn-key extrusion machines. Around 80% of the machines are exported to areas such as Japan, Turkey, Russia, Africa, and Central and South America, and most are marketed under the company's own brand.
