Glue guns – sticking to basics!

Founded in 1980, Homeease Industrial Co. has accumulated decades of experience as a dedicated manufacturer of glue guns and related packing tools. The company turns out a wide range of glue guns for HANDY and HEAVY use, along with related accessories, all of which are developed and made from the ground up in Taiwan to assure trustworthy quality. Featuring high utility and improved functionality, the company's glue guns, all of which are exported to North America and Europe, have been certificated by TUV/GS, CE, UL, and CSA.

For more consistent quality and economic efficiency in manufacturing, Homeease has consistently worked to optimize its operations by installing modern production lines, which have been partly automated and ISO 9001-certified. This boosts the company's competitive advantage, which is especially significant given the increasingly competitive landscape for OEM services.

Taking advantage of its seasoned know-how and efficient management, the company provides overseas customers with the value-added services of one-stop glue-gun shopping together with professional consultancy and technical support throughout the production process. Homeease is noted for its devotion to R&D, and after years of experience in the development of high-end glue guns in cooperation with globally known hand-tool brands has become known as among the best in the line. Backed by its time-tested production and R&D capability, the company is well able to handle ODM orders for custom designs.
