Automotive oil pumps

Taizhou Lizhong Pump Mfg. Co., Ltd., promoted as one of the largest players of its kind in China, is an ISO 9001: 2000- and ISO/TS16949-certified company specializing in development, manufacture of high-quality, durable automotive oil pumps. So far the maker has developed over 600 models of oil-pumps and yet has not stopped investing in new-product development, to achieve even-higher product comprehensiveness, a core competitive advantage it already commands.

Founded in 1993, Lizhong is headquartered in Yuhuan, Zhejiang Province, a southeastern coastal city and a production hub of auto parts in China. Its modern, integrated production plant in Yuhuan has about 180 employees, including over 30 well-trained technicians working across an area exceeding 11,000 square meters, as well as current annual production capacity of over 800,000 sets. To meet increasing demand in the global market, Lizhong plans to set up a second facility with floorage of some 80,000 square meters.

Inspection Line

Living up to its motto “to achieve top quality and prestige,” the company always insists on adopting the most advanced manufacturing equipment to assure top quality production, coupled with thorough inspection and testing by top-end instruments before packaging and shipment. So the maker has over the years won praise from customers in both domestic and foreign markets.

Its steady, conscientious effort has built for Lizhong solid reputation among global clients. The firm says it has been aggressively accelerating development of new products to consistently widen product line, also stressing that it adopts the most stringent quality-control to check every item.

With major customers in Europe, Asia, and Africa and markets still steadily expanding, the firm notes that its headquarters are only three nautical miles from Wenzhou Airport and just 60 kilometers from Taizhou Luqiao Airport to boast extremely convenient access. Interested buyers are welcome to visit its plant.
