Automotive Water Pumps, Die-Cast Aluminum Parts as Oil Pans, Cooling Fan Supports, and End Plates

Founded in 2002 in China's eastern province of Zhejiang, Cocome Automobile Parts Manufacture Co., Ltd. specializes in automotive water pumps, related parts and accessories, with strong capability in research, development, design, die-casting, and manufacturing.

Knowing the importance of human resources, Cocome has focused on personnel training over the past years to maintain high labor quality. The efforts have paid off, as the company has a high-caliber workforce comprising highly educated R&D engineers and skillful workers, setting itself apart from its Chinese peers.

In addition, the company has installed a complete line of advanced production equipment and a world-caliber QC lab, in which a number of state-of-the-art inspection instruments, including top-end testers imported from France, are installed and operated by detail-minded QC engineers to offer specialized testing services.

Quality-oriented to consistently carry out by-the-book QC measures from in-line checks to pre-delivery inspections in-house, Cocome has proven its quality reliability by its ISO 9001:2000 and ISO/TS16969:2009 certificates received a few years ago.

Marketing under the "COCOME" brand, the company supplies a wide variety of automotive water pumps, die-cast aluminum parts and accessories as oil pans, cooling fan supports, and end plates, which are exported globally, mainly to North America, West and East Europe.

Cocome also designs and makes water pumps for virtually all makes and models on an OEM and ODM basis. Highly recognized in the sector in China and overseas, the company promises to always provide quality products, on-time delivery, and optimal customer services.
