

Lung Ming Li Co., Ltd.

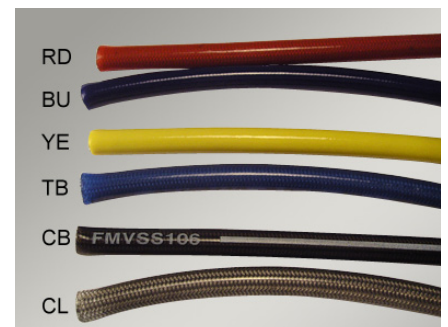

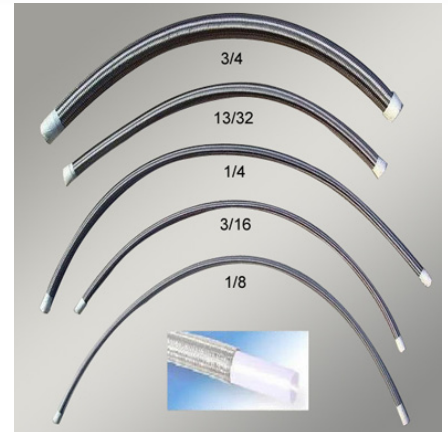

PTFE stainless steel braided hoses; brake hose; hydraulic hose; steam hose; chemical hoses

Established in 1999, Lung Ming Li Co. has developed into a world-caliber supplier of polytetrafluoroethylene (PTFE) brake hoses and related fittings marketed under its own "Dragon" and "Dragonfly" brands. The company also enjoys a solid reputation as a top-notch OEM (original equipment manufacturer) supplier.

Lung Ming Li's product portfolio encompasses PTFE stainless steel braided brake hoses, PTFE SS hoses in different diameters, power-steering rubber hoses, PTFE SS crank oil hoses, coil hoses, air brake hoses, high-pressure and high-heat resistant air, oil, and steel hoses, and various fittings and adapters. These products are widely used in automobiles, motorcycles, paintball guns, and other items.

Guaranteed quality is among the salient features of the company's products. The PTFE SS brake hoses, for instance, which can withstand temperatures ranging from minus 60 degrees to 260 degrees Celsius, have been certificated to a number of major international standards, including US DOT, FMVSS 106, SAE J1401, ADR 7/00, TSD 106, GB 16897, and JIS D2601: 2006 (JSAE/JSA). The company also enjoys ISO 9001-certified production and quality control.

The company's products are all made-in-Taiwan, with inner PTFE tubes made of materials imported exclusively from DuPont in the U.S. to assure consistent quality. The company is Taiwan's only manufacturer to have won U.S. Department of Transportation certification for all of its PTFE tubes.
